PART A IMPORTANT DETAILS ON SELF ASSESSMENT

Australia's income tax system is based on self-assessment. This means that information you provide to the ATO is initially accepted as being true and correct when you lodge your tax return and other forms on which you disclose your tax liability. These forms may include activity statements and pay as you go (PAYG) instalment statements.

The self-assessment system places the onus on you to ensure your tax return complies with taxation laws. You must show all your assessable income and that you claim only the deductions and offsets (formerly called rebates) to which you are entitled. Please sign below to acknowledge that you understand the self-assessment laws, as described above.
